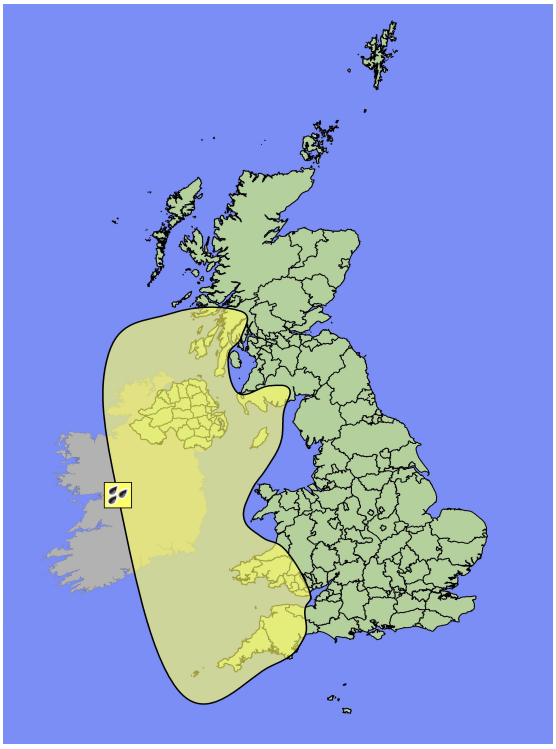
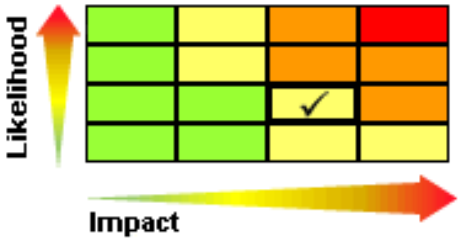
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A very deep area of low pressure will pass close to NW Britain on Tuesday, and this will bring rain and strong winds to much of the country. In the areas highlighted, heavy rain (20 to 40 mm, especially over hills) and gale force winds (up to around 50 mph) are most likely, leading to a risk of disruption to travel.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Rain

Valid from 00:05 on Tue, 29th Jan 2013 until 23:55 on Tue, 29th Jan 2013

Heavy rain will spread from the southwest on Tuesday, and will be accompanied by strong to gale force winds, especially on high ground and in western parts of Britain. The public should be aware that, given saturated ground in these areas, further localised flooding and disruption to travel is likely.
